MCCANDLESS TO FIGHT FOR WATER RIGHTS AUSTRALIAN-U. S. RECIPROCITY PLAN

Socialists Win Many Cities

(Associated Press Cable.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 8.—Returns from the city elections show that Charles M. Fickert defeated Ralph L. Hathorn for district attorney by 35,072 votes to 33,467. In a close race Frederick Eggers defeated Thomas F. Finn for sheriff.

The Socialists have won in six towns in Utah and a total of twenty-four cities throughout the country, their victories including an assemblyman each in New York and Massachusetts. Maryland has gone Republican for the second time since the war.

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
TIENTSIN, China, Nov. 8.—There are rumors here of disorders in Peking.

709 Are At Work Now

Owing to the numerous inquiries received and the misunderstanding that has arisen as to the rule regarding the cutting of banana trees, the point is emphasized that the rule is that all banana trees within 150 feet of a house must go. Attorney-General Lindsay has been consulted on the matter by many people and this afternoon stated that the 150-foot limit will be observed.

"All quiet," was Dr. Pratt's report to the Governor at noon today. All during the morning the men who are after employment have been standing outside headquarters waiting their turn. At least they were formed in a big ring around the banyan tree and those picking them out walked slowly around touching a man here and there, who immediately fell into position in the center. When there were enough of them formed up for one non-commissioned officer, he marched them out and away they went to their various posts throughout the city.

Dr. Currie is the most sought after man in town just at the present time but as he said this morning his life would be worth living in spite of it all if people would only try to get some sense of proportion. "They come to me," he said, "about some pet banana trees they have growing in their yards and want me to send out instructions not to have them cut down until they can get their favorite Japanese boy some time next week to do the job."

The two hundred men picked out this morning make a total of 709 men now engaged in the campaign.

NOT REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE POLITICS

In case the article in this morning's paper stating that the laborers applying at the headquarters of the Mosquito Campaign Committee bearing notes from prominent politicians asking that the bearers be given employment should by inference be extended to include the Republican Territorial Executive Committee, I desire to state that this Committee has taken no action whatever towards securing employment for any persons from those in charge of the task of cleaning up the city. Realizing that the health of the community is concerned, the committee does not desire, nor has it attempted to have anything to do with the selection of the required force and it is fully in accord with the policy adopted by those in charge of giving employment to the most efficient men available.—A. D. Cooper, chairman Republican Territorial Central Committee.

WALAHOLE WATER LICENSE MAY BE FOUGHT IN COURT

L. L. McCandless is not going to lose the Walahole water rights he is claiming without the hardest kind of a fight, and this morning prospects are more than good that there is a legal controversy pending over the license arranged between the Territory through the Governor, and the Oahu plantation, details of which were announced by the Governor yesterday. Mr. McCandless declared this morning that he is going to protect his rights if he has to go into court to do it, and that he means what he says is evidenced by the fact that he has retained Judge F. M. Hatch as counsel, and is getting ready for litigation. The license, granting to W. Pfothauer the Walahole water rights, was approved by the land board at a meeting late yesterday afternoon, and with its announcement it looked as if progress was rapid on the plan of the

Mayor Fern's Answer Repudiated By Others

"Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works, Andrew Adams, S. C. Dwight and T. H. Patric, constituting with J. J. Fern, the commission for Honolulu, and in their capacity as members of the said commission expressly repudiate and deny the allegations and admissions contained in the answer of J. J. Fern in so far as the allegations and admissions are in any manner different from or opposed to what is admitted and alleged in this answer to complainant's petition for an injunction." This is the opening of an answer filed on behalf of four members of the Oahu land fund commission to the admissions made by Contractor J. H. Wilson when his bid for the Heela beach belt-road strip was rejected. The answer filed today not only denies what Fern admitted, thus repudiating the mayor of the city, but goes on to show why Contractor Wilson was not considered a responsible bidder. The answer states that the attorney-general gave an opinion stating that the award of the contract should be given to the lowest responsible bidder and further that if the lowest bidder wanted longer time that this should be

NATIONAL GUARD LEARNS WARFARE

A few nights ago had anyone climbed the ladder-like stairs of the ramshackle bungalow in the palace grounds which is dignified by the name of National Guard headquarters, he would have jumped to the conclusion that he had uncovered a nest of dangerous conspirators against the peace of the Territory. Before the stair head was reached snatches of warlike conversation would have floated through the open door, and such alarming bits as "I'll send an officer and ten men down to the crossroads to drive in all the cattle," or "If I see them running I will give the order to fire at will at 800 yards," would have brought him to a stop. If the intruder was courageous enough to push on his suspicious would have been confirmed by the sight of some twenty men poring over a huge map nailed to a table, while an officer in uniform urgently pointed out the points of attack and the details of combat with a fine disregard for a handful of men left lying dead in the open. Further investigation would lead to the knowledge that it was all a game—a make-believe war waged with colored

Rebels Are Repulsed In Fight

(Associated Press Cable.)
NANKING, China, Nov. 8.—The rebels attacked the city at dawn. The Manchus entrenched themselves at Purple Mountain and repulsed the invaders with a loss estimated at 500. It is believed as a result of the battle that Nanking will withstand the attack of the revolutionists. The rebels are reported as capturing small towns along the Canton and Kowloon railway line.

OAHU SUGAR CO. SUED FOR $20,000.

The John H. estate has filed in the circuit court a suit against the Oahu Sugar Company for $20,000, asking for restitution of lands at Waipio, which the complaint states have been wrongfully withheld from the estate. A lease of the land, negotiated by Irene H. Brown and C. A. Brown to the Oahu Sugar Company in 1897 and the later sale of this land to the H. estate are involved in the suit.

RAWLINS HAS RESIGNED.

He has been in poor health for some time and is now quite ill in the hospital, and his resignation has been expected for a week. His successor has not yet been named. C. C. Bittling is mentioned as a probability.

CHARTER SCHOONER LUKA FOR SOUTH SEA TRIP

Father Emmanuel Rougier, who has sold Washington and Fanning islands to a Canadian and English syndicate, and members of his family, today chartered the schooner Luka, owned by Captain Frederick Miller of this city, for a South Sea trip, leaving next Saturday. The schooner will carry to Fanning and Washington islands and Father Rougier and the inspector sent out here by the purchasing syndicate, who was expected to arrive on the Zealandia this afternoon. The Luka was hauled on the marine railway this morning after having ridden at anchor in the stream for a number of months. Captain Miller will serve as master of the vessel, accompanying Father Rougier and his party to Fanning and Washington islands, and hopes to complete the voyage within a month or six weeks at the latest.

The Luka is credited with being one of the finest fitted sailing vessels which make Honolulu as a home port. Money was spent with a lavish hand in the construction of the vessel and the installation of appointments which have to do with the comfort of passengers. For months past, the Luka has been the home of Captain Miller to a Canadian and English syndicate, and members of his family. It is understood that Father Rougier has agreed to pay one thousand dollars for the use of the vessel in making the trip to the Southern islands. Fanning and Washington islands are less than one hundred miles apart, and lie a trifle over one thousand miles to the South of Honolulu. Accompanying the Luka as crew will be a mate, a cook and four men to work the ship. It is expected that the cleaning and renovation of the Luka will be completed to permit the vessel getting away for Fanning on Saturday morning. Father Rougier has arranged for a small motor launch to be taken to the islands to be used by the party in entering the various lagoons. The launch is the property of Captain Miller and will be brought back on his return to Honolulu. A complete line of stores and supplies are now being collected for the voyage.

AMERICAN PROGRESS IN HILO TO BE FEATURED IN EDITION

J. B. McSwanson returned this morning from Hawaii after a month spent on the Big Island assembling data and pictures for "American Hawaii," the Evening Bulletin's 1911-12 special edition. Distinctive pictures illustrating some special feature on each of the different plantations are being secured. The aid of the various plantation managers in getting together accurate and interesting information regarding the various properties is being willingly given. Much more space than formerly will be devoted to some of the minor industries in the coming edition, such as sisal, pineapples, rubber, tobacco and other products. One feature of the coming edition that will prove an eye-opener to Honolulu people who have not visited Hilo recently is a section that will tell of the progress of the white business interests in that growing town. This section will be illustrated with views showing many of the new store and office buildings, and will also contain a number of pictures of the owners and managers of the different businesses. "Practical People in Plantation Work" is another section that will prove of much interest to local and foreign readers. It is devoted to photographs and short sketches of the executives on the plantations other than the managers. The edition will be ready for distribution on February 22. A Lewis, Jr., was called this morning as a witness for the Inter-Island Steamship company in connection with the Celtic Chief case.

Neilsen Is Going For Treaty

Neil Neilsen, late minister for lands in the New South Wales labor government was an arrival at the steamer Marama last night from Australia. He is going to the United States on no less a mission than to advocate reciprocity between Uncle Sam's domains and Australia, and is sent across the Pacific by his government to take up a possible reciprocity agreement at Washington. Neilsen is also going to try to stimulate trade relations between the United States and Australia and one particular object is to secure the establishment of better steamship facilities between San Francisco and the Antipodes. He will also attend the sessions of the National Irrigation Congress shortly. He will be in Honolulu for several days, leaving on the Sierra next Wednesday for San Francisco. He is making his headquarters at the Public Service Association.

At the Hands-Around-the-Pacific dinner tonight Mr. Neilsen will be one of the important speakers, probably following Percy Hunter. Neilsen was the central figure in the disturbance that shook that state some little time ago, when the labor party made their sensational drop out of power only to be pulled back again by Premier McGowan from Vancouver. The fight is still raging hot and they have only a bare working majority at the present time.

HOLSTEIN DOES NOT APPEAR FOR TRIP

National Committeeman H. L. Holstein "turned up missing" today when the Wilhelmina left for San Francisco. The committeeman and speaker of the House had been confidently expected to go to Washington on the same vessel that carried Delegate Kuhio and to add to Delegate Kuhio's support in the charges he will press against Governor Frear, but Holstein did not show up at the appointed time. His failure to put in an appearance gave rise to a number of rumors, among which is that Holstein does not wish to become involved now in the controversy on account of his own business interest, although his support is to be given Kuhio from a distance. Attorney C. W. Ashford went away with the Delegate, and will represent a large group of Kauai homesteaders at Washington. Colonel Sam Parker and Ernest Parker and John T. McCrosson were on board. Mr. McCrosson is going to Washington on behalf of his Kauai ditch bill, which was introduced at the extra session and is expected to pass during the coming session.

Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the Board of Health, has forwarded a letter to the city and county Board of Supervisors thanking that body for the support and assistance tendered the health authorities in their endeavor to combat the mosquito pest and in the cleaning up of the city.

The National Prohibitionist, a weekly publication in the interest of the prohibition party, has suspended publication. The statute erected at Steubenville, O., in honor of Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war under President Lincoln, was unveiled.
